PALS' TRIBUTE TO SHANNON

By VICKY LANE
vicky.lane@hertsexnews.co.uk

DEVASTATED friends of a young woman who died after falling from a Harlow tower block are seeking help to purchase a bench dedicated to her memory.

Shannon Jones (23), pictured right, of Hobtoe Road, suffered multiple injuries after plunging from the balcony of her sixth floor flat in Spring Hills Tower on February 29.

It is believed the popular ex-Stewards Academy pupil, who worked as a barmaid at The Small Copper pub in Momples Road, had been drinking heavily the night of the accident.

Best friend Gemma Ashton, of Brays Grove, said she had been "numb" ever since hearing the news.

"I had spoken to her that day and still can't believe she's gone," Gemma said this week. "She was my best friend and I loved her like a sister. I just feel numb."

Now a close group of Shannon's friends have decided to raise funds for a memorial bench to be installed next to her resting place in Parndon Wood Cemetery.

"We want to buy an engraved bench to keep Shannon's memory alive and also give her friends and family somewhere nice to sit when they go and visit her to reminisce about the good times," said Gemma.

"It is a lovely, peaceful spot and this way everyone can benefit from it."

To help raise the £1,500 they need to purchase the bench, the group are holding a raffle and tribute night at The Willow pub in Hodings Road on Saturday.

Emma O'Donnell, of Summers, had been friends with Shannon since they were eight years old.

She said the group had been "overwhelmed" by the response to the fundraiser.

"I want to say a massive thank you to everyone who has pulled together to offer their support so far," she said. "Local businesses in Harlow have been so generous and donated some really great raffle prizes and everyone has really worked hard together to make the night a success."

"We just hope that as many people as possible will help us reach our target by coming down to The Willow on Saturday night for a celebration of Shannon's life. She was such a happy and fun person, so we really want the night to reflect that."

Emma added: "I know Shannon would have loved what we are doing and would have been really proud of us all."

For more information about the tribute night, email Emma on emmalouisecod@hotmail.co.uk or call Gemma on 07402 765601. Raffle tickets cost £5 and can be purchased in advance from The Willow.

Tony helps repair vandal-hit shelter

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

A SHELTER repeatedly damaged by vandals in a series of attacks has been repaired.

Self-employed steel fabrications specialist Tony Perry, who runs a workshop in Little Canfield, was so disgusted to hear about the destruction of the shelter behind the Berecroft estate that he offered to fix it free of charge.

Alerted to the problem by golfing pal Mike Barter, a senior property manager at housing association Circle Anglia, Tony visited the site on Monday and spent the morning hammering the shelter back into shape with help from local residents.

He then welded the structure together to prevent vandals from pulling it apart in the future.

"I was only too happy to help out after Mike told me about what had happened," Tony told the Star.

"It's such a shame that there are mindless yobs out there who seem to take pleasure in destroying facilities members of their own community have provided. They certainly won't find it so easy to damage in future."

Once Tony had finished his work, members of Berecroft Residents' Association secured the covered seating area by concreting it to the ground.

Association chairman Zulqar Cheema, who was on site on Monday to help carry out the repair work, said: "We're very grateful for Tony and Mike's help. I'm not sure how we would have afforded the Residents' fury at play area vandals

As the Star reported earlier this month, Harlow MP Robert Halfon has started a fundraising appeal to help pay for the work. This week he reiterated his call for local firms to dig deep and help improve security on the site by donating money for a new CCTV system.

"It is truly amazing what this man has done in response to my appeal and that of the residents in the Star last week," he said.

"He is an example of the very best of human spirit. It just shows what can be achieved when the community and the Star work together.

"I will be writing to him to invite him and his family to the House of Commons to thank him personally."

work if Tony hadn't offered his services free of charge.

"But there's still plenty that needs doing to bring it up to scratch. The floodlights have been smashed and needs repairing and we're still waiting for EDF Energy to tell us when they can hook the electricity up."

Police find 'missing' man's body in wood

THE death of a man whose body was discovered behind a pub at Church Langley is not being treated as suspicious, police have confirmed.

The 55-year-old man, whose identity has not been released, was reported missing last Wednesday morning. There were concerns for his welfare which prompted police to carry out extensive local enquiries.

The ground search was supported by the Essex Police helicopter.

The man's body was eventually found in a parcel of woodland behind the Potters Arms pub off Church Langley Way on Thursday afternoon. The area was cordoned off for several hours as forensics teams examined the scene.

A post mortem investigation has been carried out and an inquest will be held at a date to be fixed.

Trains set to sparkle

LOCAL rail operator Greater Anglia is giving its fleet of trains a spring clean ahead of this summer's Olympics.

The company is expecting to cope with thousands of extra passengers on board trains travelling to and from Stratford.

All surfaces and floor coverings in carriages – including ceilings, floors and wall panels – will be steamcleaned while seat covers and carpets will be shampooed.

Close attention is also being given to windows and lighting units.

Conference delegate groped woman in lift

A DELEGATE attending a religious conference who forcibly kissed and groped a young woman has been spared a jail sentence after admitting sexual assault.

Judge Karen Walden Smith told Lloyd Williams (20) that such behaviour would not be tolerated and made him the subject of a two-year community order.

The incident happened when Williams, of Jerounds, Harlow, was in a lift with the victim at Chelmsford Baptist Church on October 13 last year.

Williams kissed the woman against her wishes and then, when they were in the lift together, he touched her bottom.

Diana Pigott, prosecuting at Chelmsford Crown Court, said Williams, who had been representing Harlow at the conference, had told the woman she was very pretty and had asked if he could kiss her.

Despite being told he could not, Williams started to kiss her and tried to put his tongue in her mouth several times.

Miss Pigott said that when the lift opened, Williams initially got out but then appeared to have forced his way back in and groped her bottom.

As she sentenced Williams, the judge said that as a result of what had happened the victim had since suffered panic attacks and found her confidence undermined.

"This sort of behaviour cannot be tolerated," she told him. "The seriousness of the allegation is the affect on her. Sexual touching is deeply distressing."

The judge ordered that Williams should be supervised for 18 months and would be placed on the sex offenders register for the next five years.

Brothers to cycle five countries in five days

PEDAL POWER:

Brothers Paul, left, and Richard Fox are hoping to raise £5,000 for Isabel Hospice by taking part in a sponsored cycle ride

TWO brothers are saddling up for a bike trek across Europe in a bid to raise £5,000 for a hospice.

Brothers Paul (30), of Stackfield, Harlow, and Richard Fox (37), of Spinning Wheel Mead, Harlow, will be part of a team of 12 attempting to cycle 500 miles through five countries in just five days.

Setting off on June 12, their route will take them from England to France, Belgium, Germany and Holland. They will average 100 miles a day and camp overnight.

Paul and Richard, who have been road cycling for the past four years and last year completed the London to Paris bike ride, said they couldn't wait to take part in their latest challenge.

"The team meet regularly and we've been putting in the extra miles, gradually increasing our training distance up to around 50-60 miles each weekend," said Paul.

"Richard and I can often be seen training for this ride at the weekends on the quiet roads surrounding the town."

The fundraiser is in aid of Isabel Hospice at Welwyn Garden City.

"We've got friends and family who have been lost to cancer and who have benefitted from the care and support provided by local hospices, so we both know just how important services like Isabel are," said Paul. The brothers have already held a successful charity night at Harlow's greyhound stadium and are planning other fundraising events to top up their total, including a pub quiz night in May.

Paul added: "We've raised £1,778 so far but need to hit our target of £5,000. We'd appreciate the support of as many people as possible in the final weeks building up to the ride."

Marathon pair's £4k target in aid of charity for the homeless

TWO members of Potter Street Baptist Church are to go the distance for charity this Sunday when they run the London Marathon in aid of a leading homeless charity.

Teacher Andy Kitson (37), pictured right, of Chapel Fields, and charity worker Steve Hulcoop (67), of Five Acres, will be running their 4th and 23rd races respectively to raise money for the charity Housing Justice, which supports night shelters, homeless drop-in centres and hundreds of other projects nationwide.

With just days to go until Sunday's marathon, they have appealed for Harlow residents to help them reach their combined target of £4,000.

Steve works for the charity in London, helping to distribute food and clothes. "It does vital work in making the situation better for so many homeless people and people with poor housing," he said. "Housing Justice has been doing a lot of good work this year, especially in successfully fighting against Westminster Council's proposal to ban rough sleeping in Victoria."

Golf day fundraiser for grandparents' support association

HARLOW-based charity The Grandparents' Association is inviting golfers to club together for a good cause by taking part in its silver jubilee fundraiser.

The event takes place at the Manor of Groves Hotel in High Wych on Thursday, May 17, starting at 8am with coffee and bacon rolls followed by a 'Texas scramble' nine-hole contest.

Lunch will be followed by 18 holes of golf on a shotgun start before participants tuck into a buffet dinner with prizegiving, a raffle and auction.

Prizes will be awarded for the best individual and team scores, longest drive and nearest ball to the pin.

Entrance fees cost £85 per player (£320 for a team of four), with all proceeds going towards the charity's work in supporting grandparents across the UK who have been denied contact with their grandchildren because of family disputes.

For more information, call (01279) 428040 or send an email to louise.baker@grandparents-association.org.uk.

Awards success for hospital radio team

VOLUNTEERS at Harlow Hospital Radio are celebrating after its double success at the National Hospital Broadcasting Association awards.

Station presenter Mark Ranger picked up bronze for best newcomer and, for the second year running, the station was awarded gold in the station promotion category for a jingle recorded to promote its radio pantomime A Christmas Carol.

Andy Meadows, chairman of the station which broadcasts to patients at Princess Alexandra Hospital, said: "This was a real team effort as every member who took part in the panto had a line in the jingle. It was this joint effort that the judges really liked."

Meanwhile, the station is holding an open day on Saturday where would-be DJs can find out more about volunteering.

Running from 11am-4pm, it takes place at the studio in Princess Alexandra Hospital and will give those interested in supporting the station's work information on the current positions available.

ON THE ATTACK: Shadow chancellor Ed Balls and Labour Parliamentary hopeful Suzy Stride chat to pensioners during a visit to the Latton Bush Centre in Harlow on Friday (photo: HAR0819703)

Balls lays into 'out of touch' Conservatives

SHADOW chancellor Ed Balls blasted Government plans to freeze age-related allowances for over 65s as a "direct attack on pensioners" during a visit to Harlow on Friday.

Speaking to the Star following an informal meeting with members of the Harlow Pensioners' Action Association at the Latton Bush Centre, Mr Balls said last month's budget proved the Conservatives were "out of touch" with real people – and in danger of alienating the grey vote.

"It's clear from speaking to local pensioners that there is real anger with the Government's spending plans," he said. "What people cannot understand is how the Tories and their coalition partners can justify this granny tax on the elderly and vulnerable while at the same time giving a tax break to top earners."

He added that this month's £5.30 rise in the weekly state pension – hailed by the Government as the biggest increase ever – would be swallowed up by the spiralling cost of food, energy and petrol.

Mr Balls, who was accompanied on his visit by the party's prospective Parliamentary candidate for Harlow Suzy Stride, added: "The Prime Minister is not being straight

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

with pensioners when he says the rise in state pension means they will be better off

"It's only going up because of inflation and it won't make much of a difference in real terms. What will really affect them, however, are the changes to age-related allowances. This will be a big hit for thousands of pensioners in Harlow.

"Labour are calling on the Government to reverse this unfair tax rise and retain the 50p top rate of tax for high-earners. If Harlow MP Robert Halfon cares for the welfare of pensioners in Harlow he will support us in the House of Commons."

But Mr Halfon hit back at the shadow chancellor's claims, arguing that "generous" increases in the state pension would compensate for next year's planned freeze of age-related allowances.

"The simplification in tax allowances is being presented as a granny tax by Labour, but the truth is that an ordinary pensioner's tax free allowance will increase to £10,500 next year, meaning every single pensioner in Harlow will be better off," he said.

"It will be frozen under current plans the year after but this will be compensated for by generous rises in the Basic State Pension.

"Gordon Brown put up pensions by a miserly 75p but under a Conservative-led Government it is rising by £5.30 a week.

"This is more money in the pocket of every single Harlow pensioner, to help with rising energy costs and the rocketing cost of petrol and diesel."

Minister champions importance of town's new university centre

HARLOW'S new university centre will play a key role in the future prosperity of the town, according to the Government minister for universities and science.

David Willetts officially opened the facility – a joint venture between Harlow College and Anglia Ruskin University – on Monday after being invited to tour the building on the college's Velizy Avenue campus by Harlow MP Robert Halfon.

Mr Willetts said it was an honour to open the centre, adding: "It will allow two excellent institutions to bring higher education closer to local people.

"It is in the interests of students and employers and will boost our future prosperity. I wish every success to those who benefit from this new resource." The East of England

Development Agency, the Harlow-Stansted Growth Area Partnership and the Higher Education Funding Council for England contributed a combined total of £9.3m towards the construction of the three-storey building.

On-site facilities include a 96-seat lecture theatre, graphics design studio, journalism centre, video conferencing suites and computer rooms.

Mr Halfon said: "The new university centre is vital as the town continues to develop with the prospect of thousands of new jobs following its approval as an Enterprise Zone and with the possibility that Harlow could soon be awarded a University Technical College."

Teenager flees empty-handed after attempt to steal phone

POLICE are appealing for witnesses to an attempted robbery outside the Co-op store in Maunds Hatch, Harlow.

A white youth, thought to be about 15, approached his intended victim and threatened him while demanding his mobile phone, but fled empty-handed.

The suspect is approximately 5ft 9ins tall with long blonde hair swept to one side. He was wearing cream chino trousers and a light blue top.

The incident happened at about 8pm on Thursday, April 5.

Anyone with any information about the incident should contact PC Daniel Phipps at Harlow police station on 101 extension 300177 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111.

SIR, I read with interest Science Alive's attempt to bolt their science project onto Harlow Museum's collection which, when you think about it, is really history and not science (Star, April 12).

The Time Machine gallery sounds like a brave though doomed attempt to me. It seems the new gallery will include artefacts that used to be at the museum, made to fit the science narrative. Of course there won't be room for everything; most of the objects will be in store.

Chief executive John O'Connor professes to be excited at taking on the responsibility of developing the museum service in a new form. Meantime, most of the exhibits will not be exhibited, the old museum building will only be open at certain times for people to use the archives, there will be a programme of talks, lectures and workshops – presumably at the Leisurezone – and the old building will be used for weddings and other functions.

I bear no ill-will to the new project. I am myself involved in trying to rescue the Gibberd Gallery from being closed. We will try to maintain our programme of extraordinary exhibitions without money or a council officer to organise things.

I will just say that the sentence that leapt out at me from the story is: "Entry to the museum is included in the normal Science Alive admission charge." This means that there will be no popping in to the museum on a rainy holiday afternoon, no quick visit to check something, no family outings. Entry is £4 for adults, £3 for children and £10 for families. I can take my grandchildren to the Natural History and Science Museums in Kensington for nothing.

Who on earth is going to support this project? How is it that we used to have free access to facilities owned by the town and now we don't? In five years what will remain of all the discretionary services that made Harlow different and special?

Young vandals keyed my car for no reason

SIR, It seems these days we can't ask other people's children a simple request without risking possible repercussions. The other day two young boys were kicking a football across the road to each other outside my house in Pear Tree Mead. The ball hit my car a few times and also hit my living room window, as well as my next door neighbour's window.

They found this very amusing, especially as my neighbour's two dogs were barking at them from behind the

Charges will put an end to quick visits to the museum

THIS picturesque scene of Parndon Mill was taken by reader Neil Betteridge, of Abbotsweld, Harlow. Neil says the photo is actually a composite of six images taken of the back of the mill at the bottom of Parndon Mill Lane.

"The photo was taken towards the end of last summer but it still looks the same down there now," he said. "It's a beautiful place."

Do you have a photograph taken in Harlow that you think is good enough to feature in the Photo of the Week section? If so, we would love to see it.

Email a high resolution copy in jpeg format – along with a brief description of your photograph along with when and where it was taken and your name and address – to star@hertsessexnews.co.uk. Please insert 'Photo of the Week' in the subject line.

living room window which the ball had hit moments before. I then opened my window and asked them if they could not play so near to the cars and houses because they were upsetting my neighbour's dogs.

There is a small field not 100 yards away from my house that they could easily kick a ball around on but they chose to play on the road. They walked off without a word back to me, although they were whispering to each other and then looked back at me and threw a smirk my way.

A short while later I saw them walking in the road past my car so I went outside to check and discovered it had been deeply scratched down its entire length.

What kind of 10-year-olds are going around keying people's cars for no reason whatsoever? Has it got to the point now where you can't ask children to play elsewhere without the risk of your property being damaged as a result? Cars are expensive enough already without mindless idiots going around damaging them.

I hope the parents of these children who play in the Pear Tree Mead area read this letter and act accordingly, but I'm not holding my breath.

Christine Pearson
Pear Tree Mead, Harlow

We don't feel safe on our trips to the park

SIR, In the space of two days I have taken my 2½-year-old to two different parks near our home.

In one there were two women with children using every possible swear word you can imagine whilst swigging from bottles of cider and so we left after being there no more than 30 seconds.

There are often smashed alcohol bottles and plenty of dog mess, as well as the odd needle or condom.

The next day I took my toddler to another park, the one between Holly Field and Shawbridge. We had only been there for about two minutes before two young men sat on the bench and proceeded to smoke dope and so again we had to leave.

My husband and son were there earlier in the week and there was rubbish everywhere with a bin only metres away within the park.

I love having playgrounds on the doorstep but if we can't use them then I'd rather we build a choice few and have them properly monitored.

We're now planning on driving out of Harlow to find a playground we feel safe in! How will our MP, council and police respond to this?

Spend/borrow policy to blame for the cuts

SIR, The coalition Government would not be having to make cuts of any kind if the 12 years of Labour governments had understood anything about economics.

For 12 years they spent and borrowed with not one thought of how they would pay back the massive debts that brought this country to the verge of bankruptcy.

There was no control over banks and no control over the pay and bonuses of top company directors.

The companies whose shares are in the FTSE 100 should be subject to new controls over pay and bonuses but please do not curtail entrepreneurs who use their own money to bring in new enterprises and new jobs that go with this.

As for our young unemployed, it was Labour that allowed 3½ million young people from the EU and 500,000 people from non EU countries to come here with full benefits and work permits. Is it any wonder that jobs are scarce?

It wasn't Tories who helped pensioners

SIR, In reply to the letter from Andy Shannon ("Pensioners got very little from Labour", April 12), I would like to remind him that it was not the Conservatives who gave us free bus passes, free TV licences for the over 75s and the winter fuel payments.

This coalition government has reduced the winter fuel payments and no doubt will also erode the other two as well.

High tax rate drives investment abroad

SIR, Cllr Jean Clark and the Labour Party obviously do not understand the economics of the 50p tax rate (Letters, April 5).

The top earners, and we are talking about a very small minority of people, understandably move their wealth around the world to where the tax is lowest. If the UK has a high tax rate all that wealth, including the investment and spending, goes abroad.

Surely Cllr Clark will agree that 45 per cent of something is better than 50 per cent of nothing.

Market to offer a taste of continent

SHOPPERS can sample the culinary delights of the continent when a European food market visits the Water Gardens this week.

From today (Thursday) until Sunday, the shopping centre will be transformed into a bustling market place as traders from France, Belgium, Italy, Spain, Holland and Poland set up stall to sell delicacies including Brittany biscuits, olives, Italian nougat, cheeses, sausages, tartiflette (a traditional cheese and potatoes dish from the Alps), charcuterie, fresh bread and croissants.

Traders will also be selling a range of craft ranging from handbags and leather goods to children's toys and pashminas. Market operator Olivier Simonin said: "Most of the products on sale will come from each stallholder's region where they are produced by small organisations such as family businesses, farms or small factories using traditional methods."

New uni post for town's former MP

FORMER Harlow MP Bill Rammell has been appointed vice chancellor of the University of Bedfordshire.

Mr Rammell, who served as the town's Labour MP for 13 years before losing his seat to Robert Halfon in 2010, will take up his new position in August in time for the start of the new academic year.

He is currently deputy vice chancellor at the University of Plymouth.

"I am delighted to be joining Bedfordshire at such an exciting time for both the university and the higher education sector," said Mr Rammell, who still lives in Orchard Croft.

"I am well acquainted with the university and have watched its reputation grow over recent years. It excels at widening participation, transforming lives and communities. I look forward to building on its success."

In the course of his 13 years as the town's MP, Mr Rammell held portfolios for lifelong learning, further and higher education, the armed forces and the Foreign and Commonwealth Office. Prior to that he worked for both the University of London and King's College London as general manager of the students' union, was a regional officer for the National Union of Students and was employed as head of youth services at Basildon Council.

Six names on the list for police pups

AN Essex Police competition to name two of its new dogs attracted more than 500 entries.

Officers from the force's dog unit have now produced a shortlist of six suggestions and are asking the public to vote for their favourite.

The Olympic-themed names are Flame, Zola or Coco for the bitch and Boris, Ringo or Nike for the dog.

The winners of the competition will be invited to the dog unit to meet, cuddle and have their photographs taken with the puppy they named.

The deadline for votes is Monday (April 23). To take part in the poll log on to the police website at www.essex.police.uk/puppycomp or the force's Facebook page at www.facebook.com/essexpoliceuk.

Cameras roll as TOWIE heads to Water Gardens

THE only way was Harlow for stars of the smash hit ITV reality show The Only Way Is Essex when they visited The Water Gardens on Friday to shoot scenes for the latest series.

Just weeks after Lydia Bright's pet pig Mr Darcy was rehomed at Pets' Corner, his former owner joined fellow cast members Lucy Mecklenburgh and Bobby-Cole Norris for a trawl of the town centre's high street stores including River Island, Next, JD Sports and Jane Norman as the cameras rolled.

complex, stopping to chat with fans and sign autographs.

The trio took refuge from the cold inside the foyer of Asda in between takes, where they also posed for photographs with staff members.

Rachel Forth, the supermarket's community colleague, said: "They certainly caused quite a stir and there were lots of fans wanting to get autographs and photos."

"Lydia, Lucy and Bobby were lovely and spent a lot of time chatting with staff and customers."

Water Gardens manager Beryl Murphy added: "We were only too happy to have the TOWIE film crew and stars come down to the centre."

"It's great that Harlow is going to be featured in the show for the first time and obviously we're thrilled that the production team chose to shoot their scenes in The Water Gardens."

"Hopefully it will help put Harlow on the map as one of the county's top shopping destinations."

A night to remember

IT can't have escaped your notice that this month marks the 100th anniversary of the RMS Titanic's ill-fated maiden voyage – and with it comes some fascinating connections to Harlow.

Former Old Harlow resident Sarah Flower Adams will forever be linked with the 'unsinkable' luxury liner after the hymn she wrote – Nearer My God To Thee – was reputed to have been played by the ship's band as the vessel disappeared below the waves.

Local historian and regular Nostalgia contributor Ron Bill said the first Blue Plaque erected in Harlow commemorated Sarah, who was born and lived in High Street, Old Harlow.

Sarah, who wrote many sacred songs and hymns, was the second and youngest daughter of Eliza and Benjamin Flower. She married William Bridges Adams but died on August 14, 1848 at the age of just 43 and is buried with other family members at the Foster Street burial ground near Potter Street.

Another regular Nostalgia contributor – Marlene Brooks of Fold Croft – also wrote in

By CATHERINE JONES
star@hertsessexnews.co.uk

to say that she and her family believe they also have a link with the Titanic.

"My brother and I investigated a good deal and we are sure that one of the third class passengers – James Scanlan – was a distant relative of ours.

"After we had searched as far as we could we spoke to our cousin who had come to a similar conclusion following his own investigations as the names and dates fitted. Also, Scanlan is a clan name and our grandfather came from the same area."

Marlene said her granddad Richard was born in County Clare in 1887. At the age of 20 he came to London where he met Marlene's grandmother and the couple tied the knot in 1910.

Meanwhile, back in Ireland where the Titanic was being built at the Harland and Wolff shipyard in Belfast, Richard's brother James was preparing to emigrate to New York after their sister Kate had secured him a job at the Plaza Hotel.

"To James, who was working as a labourer, the sound of this felt like the old adage of streets lined with gold, so he bought his third class ticket (no. 36209) for £7.14s.6d and boarded the Titanic at Queenstown on Thursday, April 11," said Marlene.

Tragically, James was one of the 1,514 passengers who perished when the ship struck an iceberg some 375 miles south of Newfoundland. He was just 22 years old.

His parents, John and Catherine Scanlan, made a claim against the White Star Line for £20,000 but in the end only received £30 from the Titanic Relief Fund.

Marlene said: "Although we never knew James we can only imagine how sad it must have been for the whole family at that time."

And she added: "One mystery that we have never solved is that over a year after the sinking there was an enquiry about the events of that fateful night and speaking on behalf of the plaintiffs was a Mr Thomas Scanlan. We may never know if he, too, was also related to both us and James."

Money raised for the local scanner appeal will be matched pound for pound at a ceiling of £100,000 until December, it has been confirmed. The extra money, which will be a major boost to the appeal, comes from funds left over from the Essex Scanner Appeal.

Police are to step up patrols around Staple Tye after a spate of break-ins. Five burglaries were reported on one evening with items stolen ranging from computers to stationary. Detective Inspector Rod Clare said that all available resources would be concentrated in the area for the foreseeable future.

A group for the physically and mentally disabled is desperate for a home of its own. The Freewheelers club is looking for a full-time centre because its current accommodation – a church hall – is too cold and draughty. According to the group, membership is down because people do not like attending meetings at the current premises.

DO you remember the case of chemical technician Karen Silkwood, who died in mysterious circumstances in 1974 after investigating alleged safety violations at a US nuclear plant?

It happens that it was her story that formed the basis of the play – seen in this photo from the Museum of Harlow archives – which was performed to pupils at St Mark's School almost 10 years later when they were paid a visit by the Theatre Van team in 1983.

Reader Mandy Jacobs explained that the show was called Face Values and based loosely on the case.

"The show explored the positions of different characters working at a nuclear power plant when faced with the possible release of information regarding the safety of the plant," she explained.

"It was first performed in spring 1982 with Les Davidoff (in the picture) as the plant manager, Mike Szpakowski as the shop steward, myself as the cleaner and - the pivotal character for our audiences - Lorraine Hilton as her 13-year-old-daughter, Sharon. The show was further revived in spring 1983 with Greg Cullen as the plant manager.

"I am certain it was a show we wrote collectively that highlighted the differing, conflicting opinions at the time that surrounded the development of nuclear power. There was a lot of audience participation with each character posing problems to groups of audience members." Mandy added: "It's interesting to keep revisiting the work we covered at that time.

"Theatre Van was Harlow's own fully funded professional community theatre company. Would it be possible to do anything like this now? I won't even begin to answer that question!"

Half way there: more than 700 sign up to 'do it in the dark' for St Clare Hospice ORGANISERS of the St Clare Hospice Midnight Walk are on course to achieve their goal of 1,300 participants for this year's 'do it in the dark' fundraiser. Since the launch on March 1 more than 720 people have registered to take part - well over half the target figure.

"It is very moving to hear people's reasons for walking and very motivational to know that the care our patients receive is so good that it inspires their friends and family to want to support the hospice," said events fundraiser Tracy Stratford. "We would like to say a big thank you to each and every person for their support."

Among the latest batch of people to sign up for the Star-backed walk around Harlow on Saturday, June 16 is a team of work colleagues from Armour Home Electronics in Bishop's Stortford.

The team is being led by senior sales administrator Sara Willson, who said: "I thought this was a great event for us all to get involved in."

"We are taking part in memory of Charlie, a colleague who sadly passed away on March 28 at the age of 43. Charlie was very sick and St Clare gave her the care and support she needed."

"Charlie was a brave lady who was one of our longest serving colleagues, having joined the company some 24 years ago. She had suffered illness over the last few years and despite a feisty battle the cancer was too strong and took Charlie from us.

"As this illness took over so quickly we didn't have time to treat Charlie to a break away or really say our goodbyes. We felt raising money in her memory was the right thing to do."

"We had hoped for Charlie to choose a theme for our walk but she took a turn for the worse before we managed to tell her." The 'Charlie's Angels Team' are hoping to raise £1,000 for the hospice. If you cannot take part on the night but want to show your support, you can make a donation to the team at www.justgiving.com/CharliesAngels2012.

Walkers will set off from the Water Gardens car park in Harlow town centre at 10.30pm, following a 10km route which will bring them back to the start.

Registration costs £15 per person and everyone taking part will receive a Midnight Walk goodie bag.

Thug guilty of attack on 64-year-old

A THUG responsible for an unprovoked attack on a 64-year-old man who was found with head and hand injuries on a playing field in Harlow has been told that a prison sentence is inevitable.

Unemployed Bradley Burnip (28) was given the jail warning after pleading guilty at Chelmsford Crown Court to causing grievous bodily harm with intent on Raymond Dodson. He was remanded in custody until May 4 when he will return to court for sentence.

The court was told Mr Dodson, from Sheering, was found lying on a playing field between Mallows Green and The Maples on January 30.

Although no details of the attack were given during the hearing, it is understood Mr Dodson had put his hands on his head to protect himself during the attack with an iron bar.

As well as the injuries to his hands, he suffered jaw fractures and a broken eye socket while 60 per cent of his teeth were smashed.

Peter Gair, prosecuting, said Mr Dodson would be "troubled by his injuries for a long time".

Burnip, of Mead Lane, Hertford, denied a charge of attempted murder but admitted stealing a wallet and mobile phone from Mr Dodson. He also faces sentence for charges of burglary and theft for which he was convicted at West Herts Magistrates Court on February 20 this year and for being in breach of a suspended prison sentence.

By COURT REPORTER

Judge Charles Gratwicke called for full pre-sentence reports in the case and made an order for the charge of attempted murder to remain on file.

Speaking after the case, Detective Constable Nick Rhodes said: "Bradley Burnip was apprehended following a fast and effective investigation by Harlow Serious Crime team."

"The evidence against him was overwhelming, showing he was guilty of committing a harrowing, unprovoked attack on Mr Dodson."

"Burnip has not provided an explanation for the attack, but it appears Mr Dodson's injuries came as a result of a trivial disagreement and without warning."

WIN Two tickets to RSC's Written On The Heart

THE Royal Shakespeare Company's production of David Edgar's critically acclaimed play Written On The Heart, which opened for previews at the Duchess Theatre this week, has been described by one critic as "the RSC at its best".

After almost a century of unrest, the King James Bible was intended to end the violent upheavals of the English reformation.

But deep-seated conflicts force a leading translator to confront the betrayal of his youthful religious ideals for the sake of social peace.

Written on the Heart tells the story of two men who, across an 80-year divide, translate the word of God into English. For one it means death at the stake, for the other it could mean an archbishop's mitre.

This week we are giving you the chance to win one of five pairs of top-price tickets to Written On The Heart. To enter, answer the question in the coupon and return it to Written On The Heart competition, PO Box 268, Cambridge CB24 6HF by Wednesday, April 25.

BUSINESS BRIEFING

By Ian Hudson

General Manager

Harlow & District Chamber of Commerce

THE national news may be full of doom-and-gloom appraisals of the UK's economic woes but here at the chamber we are finding that many of our members are flourishing despite difficult trading conditions.

RPJ Document Management, who provide document scanning services locally and nationwide, have just had a new website - www.rpjscanning.co.uk go live. Another Harlow company - Webuseful Ltd - was commissioned to design it.

Roy Holland, managing director of RPJ, said: "It was great to work with another local company, especially when they have the same high work ethics as my own."

Webuseful are now working hard to get RPJ Scanning to page 1 of Google's search results over the next few months.

RAZED Roof, a local inclusive performing arts organisation for people with and without disabilities based at Harlow Playhouse, is preparing to present its latest show next month.

A History Of Harlow explores the heritage of our town through the eyes of the group, who have worked closely with the Museum of Harlow, local schools and youngsters to piece together the original play.

Artistic director Annette Lidster explained: "We have worked hard to discover ways of gathering the stories about Harlow from members of the local community. We'll also be using the town's wealth of sculptures to help illustrate the stories and secrets we have unearthed."

The play opens on Thursday, May 10, and tickets can be purchased online at www.playhouseharlow.com or by calling (01279) 431945.

CHARLES Payne from Business Aspirations, a firm specialising in developing strategies to enable successful business improvement and growth, has successfully secured a new client loan facility under the Government's Enterprise Finance Guarantee Scheme.

He said: "Working with a client, we have just secured a client loan facility under the Enterprise Finance Guarantee Scheme, a sizeable loan that now enables the company restructuring to be successfully completed."

Salon move will be a fresh start for Debbie

By CHRIS MOSS

News Editor

chris.moss@hertsessexnews.co.uk

A HARLOW hairdresser is hoping her new salon will be a cut above the competition when it opens in the Harvey Centre next month.

Debbie Agnes (34), pictured right, of Whieldon Grange, will relaunch Legends Haircutters at larger premises in the shopping mall after deciding it was time to expand her business.

"We've been in the same location in the Harvey Centre for a long time now and when I told the landlords I wanted to refurbish they suggested I look at one of the larger units at the busier end," she said.

"The new location will give us much more room and is in a much higher profile spot at the top of the escalators, so hopefully we can attract new customers while helping to improve the look of the centre."

Mum-of-three Debbie has worked at Legends for 16 years, taking over the business five years ago following the death of her husband Claudio, who passed away aged just 46 from lung cancer.

"Claudio's death really hit me and the kids hard and there's not a day that goes by without me thinking of him," said Debbie. "It has been a real struggle bringing three young children up while trying to run a business and although I'll obviously be sad to move from where I worked with my husband, I'm looking at it as a fresh start."

The new salon, which opens on May 8, will offer a range of cuts, colours and treatments for women and a separate barbershop for men.

Billed as a "one-stop beauty shop", it will also provide a range of new services including spray tanning, teeth whitening and eyebrow tattooing.

"It's always a risk taking on larger premises but I'm confident we can make the new salon work," said Debbie. "It's in a prime location and it will give us the space to experiment with an exciting new range of affordable beauty treatments, as well as providing our customers with the same high-quality cuts and colours they have come to expect from us over the past 16 years."

The salon will be offering a range of special offers to celebrate its reopening. For more details, log on to www.legendshaircutters.co.uk.

National names on list for Harlow Business Exhibition

THE list of companies set to exhibit at this year's Harlow Business Exhibition is looking stronger every week.

National names with local exposure have been lining up to support the Star-backed event, which is now widely considered to be the premier business networking event in the West Essex area.

With the likes of Vodafone, LighterLife, Lloyds TSB and Sixt Rent a Car all taking stands at the June 12 showcase at the Manor Groves Hotel at High Wych, it's clear that Harlow and the surrounding areas are seen as a key region for attracting new customers and suppliers.

Other familiar exhibitor names include Nockolds Solicitors, Park Inn Radisson, Frontline Marketing and The Dove Partnership.

In addition, visitors can find out more about Moffatt Saunders, The Intellectual Property Office and an array of enviro-friendly organisations forming part of the show's innovative 'green corridor'. Exhibition co-founder Ian Hudson said: "We are confident that over 700 visitors will enjoy meeting local businesses, attending some useful seminars and being entertained by some great local acts."

It's still not too late for prospective exhibitors to sign up, but with only 13 of the 100 stands remaining time is running out. Careful planning has been given to the positioning of every stand to ensure that each exhibitor benefits from an equal footfall of visitors.

For more information and a list of exhibitors, log on to www.harlowbusinessexhibition.co.uk or call the events team on (01279) 408669.

Dispose of your electrical goods at recycling day

A HARLOW recycling firm is urging residents and businesses to protect the environment by recycling their unwanted electrical equipment.

To coincide with Earth Day on Saturday, Sims Recycling Solutions is hosting a special collection event at its site on River Way to help raise awareness of the importance of reducing levels of electrical waste.

All items will be responsibly recycled and the precious metals and other materials recovered sent to manufacturers for re-use in new products.

Sims spokesman Euan Sudbury told the Star: "Electrical and electronic waste is the fastest growing waste stream in the developed world and we urgently need to responsibly recycle more to ensure it is not sent to landfill or illegitimate recyclers, where hazardous chemicals can pollute the earth and precious resources are lost forever."

"We hope that the local community in Harlow will join us and our colleagues around the globe to do their bit for Earth Day 2012 by taking advantage of this free recycling service and helping us to support the planet by properly disposing of their old, broken or unwanted gadgets."

Anyone who takes items along for recycling will be entered into a free prize draw to win an Apple iPad2, while the first 50 people will receive a £10 gift voucher.

MAJOR LEISURE DEVELOPMENT PROPOSED AT THE HARVEY CENTRE, HARLOW

Following the recent completion of the £1 million refurbishment to internal mall of the Harvey Shopping Centre in Harlow, the Asset Managers, Addington Capital, are proposing to submit a planning application shortly to transform a currently vacant area of the first floor to provide a leisure destination for the town centre.

The proposed redevelopment area is centred around the former JJB Sports premises at first floor level that has been vacant since 2008. The proposed £8 million redevelopment will see the existing vacant retail units transformed to provide a new circa 25,000 sq. ft. multi-screen cinema and up to six new restaurants units extending to a range of floor areas from 2,000 sq. ft. - 4,000 sq. ft.

We would like to invite you to view the plans for these exciting proposals and provide feedback. The plans will be displayed in Unit 49 (opposite Burger King at First Floor level). The centre management team will be on hand to answer any questions you may have and obtain your feedback on the plans.

When: Tuesday 24th and Wednesday 25th April 2012 between 12 noon and 2pm. There will be an evening consultation on Wednesday 25th April from 5pm to 8pm.

Where: Unit 49 (opposite Burger King), First Floor of The Harvey Centre, Harlow CM20 1XR

For further information, or if you are unable to attend the above event and have any queries on the proposals, please visit www.harveycentre.com or email Suzy Mulholland at enquiries@rdpr.co.uk. Also follow @harveycentre on Twitter or visit our Facebook page for regular updates

Harry the hermit crab's Lego shell-ter

A HERMIT crab with a shell made from Lego bricks has made himself at home at one of the UK's top theme parks.

While most hermit crabs prefer to cover themselves in the discarded shells of other marine animals, Harry is a little different.

He rejected all the snail and shellfish shells offered to him by staff at Legoland Windsor until someone built him a multi-coloured home out of Lego bricks.

The content crustacean now stands out from the crowd with his bright red, yellow and blue shell.

Senior aquarist Liane Riley told reporters: "Hermit crabs have soft bodies which need protecting but they don't have their own shells.

"They solve this problem by finding empty sea shells and moving in but we decided to give Harry a wider choice and the model makers have created a special Lego house just for him."

Despite their efforts, staff weren't sure he'd take to his new digs - but Harry seems very happy with his colourful new house.

Police to step up bike patrols on cycle paths

POLICE have warned people using Harlow's extensive network of cycle paths to take extra care following a spate of robberies in recent months.

As the weather gets warmer and more people choose to leave their cars at home, cyclists, joggers and walkers are being advised to remain vigilant for any suspicious activity when out and about across the town.

Harlow Chief Inspector Ben Hodder said: "While a fantastic

By CHRIS MOSS, News Editor
chris.moss@hertsexnews.co.uk

resource for Harlow residents, the town's sprawling cycle network is often viewed as easy pickings by opportunist criminals.

"The pathways often cover largely uninhabited areas away from main roads and can give offenders an easy escape route as well as providing them with plenty of opportunities to stash stolen goods."

Mr Hodder advised those using cycle paths to take simple steps to protect themselves from being targeted.

"Little things like jogging, cycling or walking with a friend rather than on your own and concealing head-phone wires, mobile phones and MP3 players can make a real difference," he said.

"I would also ask people to report any suspicious activity to police and keep an eye out for stolen goods that may have been hidden in hedgerows or undergrowth."

He added that the force planned to step up daily cycle patrols across the network as the summer approaches.

"We will be doing everything we can to prevent criminals from exploiting the cycle paths as the weather gets warmer, but I would also urge residents to help us by reporting any incidents. By working together we can cut crime more effectively."

Anyone noticing any suspicious behaviour should call police on 999. Discovery of stolen goods can be reported using the force's non-emergency number on 101.

Hundreds join walk of witness through town

MORE than 400 Christians celebrated the true meaning of Easter when they joined together for a walk of witness on Good Friday.

Worshippers from churches all over Harlow met at St Paul's in the town centre to take part in the walk organised by workplace chaplain Rev Robert Findlay to remember the journey Jesus took after being condemned to death.

Taking it in turns to carry a giant cross and accompanied by the local Salvation Army band, they followed a route around the town. The group paused at several points along the way for prayers, readings and hymns before heading to the Harvey Centre for more musical entertainment and hot cross buns.

The event was finished with a prayer lead by the Archdeacon of Harlow, the Venerable Martin Webster.

Sue Knight, curate at St Paul's Church, said: "Of the 50 or so churches in Harlow, over half took part in the walk of witness this year which was absolutely fantastic."

"It was a lovely celebration of what Easter is really all about."

Ballet school youngsters continue to delight

THURSDAY night's splendid performance of Giselle reminded me of an old music hall song sung by my grandfather which began: "Do not trust him, gentle maiden".

Maybe Berthe, most ably danced and acted by Justine McMahon, should have given Giselle (Jessica Gudgeon), the same advice.

Jessica's performance was charming and fresh right up until the moment when she went convincingly insane and then impaled herself and her unborn child on the point of her lover's sword.

The Peasant Boy and Girl were danced with a maturity beyond their years by Hannah Meheew and the ever ebullient and accomplished Hamish Scott, and their surprise at the purse of money given to them by the Duke of Courland was delightful and believable.

Giselle's friends and neighbours looked beautiful and danced splendidly and it would be impossible to single out any one of them for special praise.

Stefan Donovan, as Hilarion, put in yet another of his well-crafted performances and was an excellent foil for both Giselle and Albrecht. Samuel Whittome has been steadily growing both in expertise and strength over the few years in which we have been permitted to watch him dance and – as Prince Albrecht – this was another good performance from a young man from whom we now expect nothing less.

Cassandra Mason was charming as Bathilde, Albrecht's aristocratic fiancée and one hoped and prayed that she gave him hell after they were married!

The court costumes reminded me of the beautiful drawings of the Graham Johnson sisters and their stately measured dances contrasted well with the exuberance of the peasants.

Then, in Act Two, we came to the ghosts of the girls who died pregnant and unwed and therefore could only be buried in the woods in unconsecrated ground.

I missed the cold menace that I felt should have emanated from Holly Gregory as their Queen; it was a workmanlike performance but lacked sparkle and the horror of forcing men to dance themselves to death, however justified, was not present.

However, in watching these performances by Harlow Ballet, we tend to forget that these are, for the most part, children and young adults who are magnificently portraying ideas and emotions beyond their understanding.

Long may they continue to delight and amaze us.

Soap star relishes the drama of stage work

By CHRIS MOSS

THE Playhouse's captivating new drama season continues next week with a spine-chilling adaptation of Ron Aldridge's racy comedy-thriller Haunted.

Staged by renowned touring company Ian Dickens Productions and starring Emmerdale favourite Peter Amory (who played Chris Tate in the long-running soap), the play delves into the troubled mind of a double murderer on the brink of psychological meltdown.

After managing to convince the authorities that both his victims died as a result of freak accidents, he looks forward to putting the past behind him and shacking up with his childhood sweetheart.

But he doesn't count on the determination and cunning of his bitter ex-wife and estranged cousin, both of whom know he is guilty of murder and conspire to force him to face up to the terrible consequences of his bloodlust.

Deliciously dark yet surprisingly humorous, the play has won over critics and audiences alike.

Amory told the Star he was relishing the opportunity to tread the boards again after a long stint on television.

"I wouldn't say I've settled into the theatre after TV because I still get nervous as hell and that is horrible," he said. "But I love having the opportunity to perform in completely new shows like this one."

"It isn't exactly a whodunit; it's more sophisticated than that and my character is a complex one."

"It's hard to talk about it without giving the game away but he is a baddie who doesn't immediately seem to be one. I suppose it's more along the lines of Randall and Hopkirk Deceased."

● Strictly for over 14s only, Haunted opens at The Playhouse next Thursday (April 26) and runs until Saturday, April 28. Performances begin at 7.30pm (with a 2.30pm matinee on Thursday) and tickets cost £15.50 (£13.50 concessions).

Sentimental rom-com is the reel deal

HOOKED: Ewan McGregor and Amr Waked star in SALMON FISHING IN THE YEMEN (S)

SALMON FISHING IN THE YEMEN certificate 12A, 1h46m

A SOCIALLY awkward fisheries expert reels in a spirited soul-mate in Lasse Hallström's unabashedly feelgood movie based on the novel by Paul Torday.

Salmon Fishing In The Yemen wrings every last drop of sentiment out of its slender premise that polar opposites attract, especially if it leads to a traditional happy ending.

Government boffin Dr Alfred Jones (Ewan McGregor) works for the Foreign & Commonwealth Office under boss Bernard Sugden (Conleth Hill), who is a mild nuisance to any pretty girl in the department.

Alfred is asked to strengthen Anglo-Arab relations by helping consultant Harriet Chetwode-Talbot (Emily Blunt) to realise the impossible dream of Sheikh Muhammad (Amr Waked) who wants to introduce British salmon to the Middle East.

At first Alfred rebuffs the idea and returns to the drudge of his suburban life with wife Mary (Rachael Stirling). But when the Prime Minister's potty-mouthed press secretary Patricia Maxwell (Kristin Scott Thomas) catches wind of the Sheikh's loopy plans, she sees past the impracticalities and focuses on the feelgood aspect of the story to distract attention from the recent bombing of an Afghan mosque.

She exerts pressure on Bernard to 'persuade' Alfred to work alongside Harriet and conceive a workable solution to the salmon problem.

When Alfred eventually meets the Sheikh, he is won over by the statesman's passion and thus begins a momentous journey of self-discovery.

Salmon Fishing In The Yemen is fluff but it's beautifully framed and well-acted fluff to warm the cockles of a cynical heart.

McGregor and Blunt are an attractive pairing. McGregor hides his sex appeal behind grey suits and mournful eyes while Blunt is luminous as a high-flying career woman presented with an agonising choice between two paramours.

Scott Thomas adds a delicious salty tang to the emotional syrup, savouring all of the script's choice one-liners including a barbed quip about Vera Lynn.

Pleasingly, there is no emotional catharsis for this puppeteer from the corridors of Westminster; she ends the film plotting and scheming, completely untouched by the rosy glow of two people in love.

Hallström and screenwriter Simon Beaufoy, who won an Oscar for Slumdog Millionaire, will be hoping the rest of us surrender more easily.

Aided by fellow agent Maria Hill (Cobie Smulders), Fury recruits Iron Man (Robert Downey Jr.), The Incredible Hulk (Mark Ruffalo), Thor (Chris Hemsworth), Captain America (Chris Evans), Hawkeye (Jeremy Renner) and Black Widow (Scarlett Johansson) to save the day.

At first it proves difficult to get these strong personalities to meld, especially with Thor's evil brother Loki (Tom Hiddleston) causing mischief. But evil must be vanquished and the heroes come together in humanity's hour of greatest need.

Consequently, the imprisoned Titans led by the gods' banished father Kronos are gaining in strength and will soon escape the cavernous dungeon prison of Tartarus. Zeus is betrayed by Hades and his godly son Ares (Edgar Ramirez), who have forged a pact with Kronos to retain their immortality once hell is unleashed upon the Earth. Guide price £545,000

Agent Howick & Brooker Partnership, Gothic House, High Street, Old Harlow. Telephone (01279) 418888

THIS week's cover property is The Inglenook, a charming 17th century cottage in a tranquil country location at Threshers Bush, High Laver.

Formerly a 'hall house' built in the early years of the 17th century, the property is now a modernised Grade II listed country cottage sitting in about a quarter of an acre of gardens with farmland views backing onto paddocks.

The house is about four miles from Harlow Town station and three miles from Junction 7 of the M11.

From the entrance lobby there is a door to the lounge and stairs to bedroom two.

The lounge is a good size room with a wealth of exposed beams and a delightful inglenook fireplace with log burner.

Next to this is a living room/bedroom three and then the stunning dining room which is heavily beamed and with character in abundance.

The owners have decorated the property in neutral colours which maximise the feeling of light and space.

The kitchen is a stylish, contemporary room with light units and wooden worktops. Leading off the kitchen are a separate utility room and a downstairs shower room.

There is also a conservatory with views across the garden.

On the first floor landing there are doors to two bedrooms, one of which has a separate dressing room which leads to a study and then on to a bathroom.

All these rooms have a wealth of stunning exposed beams and again are decorated in a neutral palette.

The gardens are well kept and mostly laid to lawn. There is also a garage.

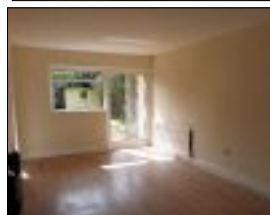

If you like the idea of this delightful rural idyll, contact Howick and Brooker on (01279) 418888 to arrange a viewing.

There's A Hamster In The Loo

Yep, it actually happened last week to (again) Ben whilst showing round a couple to a supposedly empty house when the lady opens the downstairs toilet door and screamed out "there's a hamster on the loo!!!!"

A split second of creative thinking blew Ben's mind away, picture the scene (if you would), hamster, loo, sitting quietly, possibly reading the local paper when a screaming Lady opens the door on his/her privacy!

It must be the silly season, were dealing with some proper mad people recently, one lady, not the one from Hoddesdon again (we have distanced ourselves from her!) mentioned the second house she had just viewed was so much smaller than the previous one around the corner maybe its because it only has two bedrooms and the other one had four suggested a very non plus James!

I'm sitting back more nowadays and enjoy watching what's going on with our team on the sales floor. Its very exciting to see so much energy and excitement here in Gothic House, the team is so keen but it comes with both its ups and downs along with so many stories. Almost on a daily basis someone comes up with a new twist on human life and house selling.

By the way, the hamster has been reunited with its owners, who were the previous tenants, they forgot to take he or she when they moved to their new home, but all is well and the hamster (we called it Bengie - not sure why) we are assured he/she is happy and keeping up with the news and our property pages.

Making Moving Easier

Moving day can be stressful enough, but a bit of forethought can go a long way.

For example, many people take the opportunity to clear any unwanted junk out of their homes and lives. Charity shops, car boot sales, and friends can be grateful recipients of some items, and hiring a small skip for a couple of weeks (about £80-£120) can be liberating!

Our advice would be to have a clear-out early in the process ideally before you even put your property on the market. An uncluttered house with tidy cupboards and a clear garage all improve the presentation of your home tremendously, thereby increasing its saleability and possibly its price.

The reduced volume should also bring down your removal costs. You can bring these down further by considering if there are any bulky pieces of furniture that you are thinking of having restored. For example, your current sofa might not look right in your next home unless it is recovered. So, if you are moving locally, why not ask the upholsterer to collect the sofa a couple of weeks before moving day and deliver it, re-upholstered, to your new one?

Do make sure that you plan where larger items are going in advance. It is easy for the removers to put something like a piano in the right room, but difficult for you to move it elsewhere after they have left. As well as making sure that a piece fits in a certain place, do also find out if the access to that place is easy enough.

Finally, direct the removers to pack things you will need on the day such as children's beds, kitchen and bathroom accessories, clothes, food and work-related items last so they will be the first things to be unloaded at the other end.

Remember - planning is the key to a stress-free move!

Three is the magic number

If you're a typical buyer in the badge-conscious sector for compact executive cars, you may think you've a pretty good understanding of BMW's 3 Series. After all, we've had getting on for four decades of production and over 12 million examples have been sold worldwide of this, making it the most successful car of its kind. And yet, every time BMW launches another generation of this model, it's easy to be taken aback at just how far the Munich company has moved the game on.

This sixth generation version carries on its broad shoulders an almost unimaginable weight of expectation. It is a car the company just cannot afford to get wrong and one that must justify premium pricing with premium quality, extra equipment and ever-more efficient running costs.

Like all of the best driver's cars, this one will flatter the inexperienced driver yet has the depth of talent to reward the enthusiast. Front engine, rear wheel drive and near perfect 50:50 weight distribution have defined the 3 Series to date and this one doesn't deviate too far from that script.

BMW 3 Series price £24,880-£38,550

For the first time in the UK BMW will also sell you a hybrid and even a line-up of all-wheel driven versions, but it's the standard rear driven layout that really marks this car out from its direct front-driven rivals.

Super-effective traction and stability systems keep those back wheels in check so that if you're not a driving enthusiast, you'll notice no difference. But if you are, then the feeling of being pushed by the back wheels as you exit a bend never fails to offer up a great feeling of pleasure.

Inside, the cabin seems quite minimalist at first with many of the minor functions being marshalled by the iDrive controller, but there are still plenty of buttons scattered around the dash. Nevertheless, it all looks agreeably elegant and the sweep of the dashboard roll top is a good deal sleeker than the rather ungainly double-bubble shape of this car's predecessor.

The back seat always used to be the 3

Series weak spot, especially so when it was trying to take business away from huge mainstream medium range models like Ford's Mondeo. It's just as well this car offers noticeably more space in the rear. Take a seat here and you'll now find an extra 100mm more legroom.

Pop the boot and you'll find 480-litres of fresh air but you will need to pay extra for the optional split/fold rear seats and the ski-hatch for longer items.

Equipment-wise, even the least expensive variant sets its stall out with 17-inch alloy wheels, front foglamps, air-conditioning, Bluetooth compatibility for your mobile phone, a six-speaker BMW Professional radio with a 6.5-inch colour screen, USB compatibility and iDrive functionality, keyless starting, a trip computer, a leather three-spoke multi-function steering wheel, cruise control, an alarm and hill start assist to stop you drifting backwards on uphill junctions.

And of course, whichever model you choose, it's hard to resist a potentially ruinous exercise in box-ticking as there's just so much tempting extra equipment on offer. You don't need to be overly extravagant to tack another 10 per cent to the price of your car.

For this MK6 model, BMW has increased efficiency across the board by making the majority of the engines smaller and relying on turbocharging. Added to this strategy is the use of more efficient electromechanical power steering, Brake Energy Regeneration, on-demand control of engine ancillary components, tyres with less rolling resistance and an Auto Stop-Start system that cuts the engine when it's not needed when you're stuck in urban traffic or waiting at the lights.

On top of that, weight has been pared back and aerodynamics have been improved to a figure as low as 0.26 thanks to features like the Aero Curtain which wraps the front wheels in their own cocoon of air to reduce turbulence.

This sixth generation 3 Series is a car of contradictions. Larger and more spacious than ever before but also lighter. Quicker but more fuel-efficient. And more nimble and agile, while being even safer.

Add to that the big steps taken forward in style, quality, comfort and specification and it's not possible to come away from a first acquaintance with this car without being very impressed indeed.

It's a BMW that takes your previous perceptions of how a model like this should drive and how much it should cost to run, and just tears them to shreds.

Which is important. After all, driving for many of us has become a mechanical, joyless activity and something we pay through the nose for the privilege of enduring.

This car, in contrast, makes the whole thing fun again and does so with such frugality that you never feel guilty about enjoying whether in taking the long way home or blatting up and down the gears just for the heck of it.

So yes, the 3 Series might have grown up and become responsible in middle age. But no, you don't have to look too hard to find its twinkle.

The clearest class leader on sale right now? That's about the size of it.

End of the road for your vehicle?

Responsible drivers scrap their vehicles at an Authorised Treatment Facility (ATF).

Because only an ATF can legally scrap a vehicle. That means any pollutants will be made safe before it's recycled in an environmentally friendly way.

What's more, for certain types of vehicle you'll get a DVLA approved Certificate of Destruction (CoD). A CoD proves that the ATF has told DVLA your vehicle has been scrapped and so is no longer your responsibility. www.direct.gov.uk/motoring

Section 48 Planning Act 2008

Regulation 4 Infrastructure Planning (Applications: Prescribed Forms and Procedure) Regulations 2009 Development Consent Order at Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire

NOTICE PUBLICISING A PROPOSED APPLICATION FOR A DEVELOPMENT CONSENT ORDER ("DCO")

Notice is hereby given that Veolia Environmental Services (UK) Plc (the "Applicant") of 8th Floor, 210 Pentonville Road, London, N1 9JY intends to apply to the Secretary of State under section 37 of The Planning Act 2008 for the above-mentioned DCO (the "Application").

The Application refers to the construction and operation of the Fieldes Lock Power Station and associated development to be constructed at Ratty's Lane, Hoddesdon, Hertfordshire (the "Project").

The Application will seek a DCO that will include authorisation for the following elements:

- Construction and operation of a rail-linked power station with an average electrical output of in excess of 50 MW. The power station will generate electricity from a combination of natural gas and solid recovered fuel and/or similar residual waste. The facility will comprise storage bunkers, two combustion processing lines, a boiler hall, a turbine hall and an associated air pollution control system.
- Provision of:
 - Ancillary or associated plant, equipment and buildings to accommodate the Project, including infrastructure to receive solid recovered fuel and similar residual waste fuel by rail and road;
 - Modifications to the existing rail sidings to incorporate the movement, unloading, loading and storage of material transport containers;
 - Electricity and gas grid connection infrastructure (including substation and underground cabling);
 - Foul water sewer connection and surface water outfall;
 - Site access to the power station from Ratty's Lane;
 - Internal site roads and vehicle parking;
 - Landscaping and habitat creation with related fencing or boundary treatments;
 - Administrative offices to be located within the power station; and
 - The demolition of the existing structures on the site.
- The permanent and/or temporary compulsory acquisition of land and/or rights for the Project;
- Overriding of easements and other rights over or affecting land for the Project;
- Permanent and temporary changes to the highway network for the Project;
- The application and/or disapplication of legislation relevant to the Project as may be required;
- Construction and operation of associated development, including, but not limited to, those items listed at paragraph 2 above; and
- Such ancillary, incidental and consequential provisions, permits, consents, waivers or releases as are necessary and/or convenient for the successful completion of the Project.

The Project constitutes EIA development for the purposes of the Infrastructure Planning (Environmental Impact Assessment) Regulations 2009. Therefore, the Applicant has made Preliminary Environmental Information (PEI) available. Sahara trek shows Kinney's incredible endurance PHENOMENAL endurance was shown by Andy Kinney when he completed one of the toughest running races on earth in sweltering temperatures.

The Harlow Running Club member competed in the Marathon des Sables 151-mile event.

It is equivalent to more than five-and-a-half regular marathons and was run over six stages in six days in the Sahara Desert in Morocco.

Midday temperatures were around the 120-degrees fahrenheit mark.

Kinney finished in a fantastic time of 46 hours, 19 minutes and 46 seconds, coming 450th from 871 finishers.

In the event, competitors had to carry on their backs everything they needed for the race duration (apart from a tent) including food, clothes, medical kits and sleeping bags.

Water is rationed and handed out at each checkpoint.

Most of the race was on uneven, rocky or stony ground with around a fifth of the distance being made up of sand dunes.

Elsewhere, debutant marathon runners Georgina Spenceley and Prudence Oliver completed the Brighton marathon in 4:12.05 and 5:07.33 respectively.

Paul Jeffrey-Read came 15th out of 378 finishers at the Hertford charity 10km race in a superb time of 40:30.

He was followed home by Pasquale Pellecchia (46th), who won a prize as fastest in the veteran 60 age group in a time of 45:26.

Clare Sullivan was 323rd in a personal best time of 1:03.50.

Joanne Mills set a new female Vet 60 course record when she completed the Waltham Abbey Gunpowder Park 5km run in 28:01.

Faith's Olympics countdown

IT is just under 100 days to the start of the London 2012 Olympics and Harlow-based judo player Faith Pitman will be aiming to go a long way towards clinching her spot when she competes in the 2012 European Championships in Russia.

The 26 year-old, from Hookfield, will be competing in the event at Cheltenham next week (April 26-29).

Pitman will be competing in the U-63kg category at the event.

This is the final international competition before the British Judo open event in Crawley, West Sussex on May 12-13.

The latter competition may also influence the final selection in June for Team GB.

Pitman said: "If I can do well and get a medal [in the European Championships], I think I will go to the Olympics but have to focus on the Europeans and not the Olympics.

"I have been training well and I feel in good shape."

She added: "It has not been like last year when I had [toe and ankle] injuries. I'm really looking forward to it."

Pitman, who is a member of the West Essex Judo Club in Stebbing, has been invigorated after training in the Far East. She spent three weeks in Japan and a week in South Korea with the Great Britain squad.

"The training has been very intense and I had eight five-minute fights in a row without a break.

"I have had a lot more fights than if I was over here [in Great Britain] and I really needed it," she said.

"I might have around 12 fights a week over here but had around 250 fights [in training] and they were very competitive.

"The players over there are at a high level."

GREAT HOPE: Faith Pitman is ready for the European Judo Championships in Russia next week

Avondale reserves seal cup final triumph

AVONDALE Rangers reserves won the Division One Cup final with a 4-1 victory against Sheering reserves.

James Lee-Logan (2) and Tom Carter (2) got the goals in Saturday's final at Bishop's Stortford FC.

Danny McKee replied for Sheering.

Northolt kept their division one title ambitions alive with a 1-0 home win over Badgers. Joe Mariutto netted.

A Scott Serjeant hat-trick steered North Weald reserves to a 3-1 home victory over Lower Street.

Ben Simpson and Paul Turner were on target for Heath Rovers B when they beat Hertfordshire Rangers 2-1 at home in a President's Trophy group B match.

Other results: Div one: Hatfield Heath 0, Harbridge Ath 1.

President's Trophy, grp A: Frontiers 5 (Tom Ivory 3, Neil Gough, Ojo Ifeolunet), Albury 2.

Grp B: Sheering 0, North Weald 6 (Matt Clarke 2, Ashley Brown 2, Frank Major, Charlie Brown).

Footprint Bishop's Stortford, Stansted & District League

the Hertford & District ORC Sports League premier division title after winning the battle of the top two against Alemite Athletic.

The two clubs, sitting six points apart, clashed on Saturday knowing that a win for Bengoe would deliver the championships with two games to spare, but victory for Alemite, who have a match in hand, would put them in the driving seat.

The home team won with goals from Robert Ingram and Chang Kaira, while Nathan Blake got on the scoresheet for Athletic. Alemite, meanwhile, turned their attentions to other silverware when they played in the Essex Junior Cup final against St Clere's last night (Wednesday) at Billericay Town FC.

Parliament trip for top side

THE successful football team from William Martin Primary School enjoyed a trip to the Houses of Parliament.

They were invited by Harlow MP Robert Halfon in recognition of their success in booking their place in the final of the U-11 English Schools Football Association tournament.

The Harlow primary qualified after winning a South East of England regional competition at an event in Greenwich last month.

It ended with the team from the Tawneys Road School beating Woodlands Primary School 1-0 (Norfolk) in the final.

The tournament consisted of regional finalists from Hertfordshire, inner London, Suffolk, Sussex, Kent, Middlesex, Cambridgeshire and Norfolk.

Angela Brister, deputy headteacher at William Martin, said: "The boys were amazing and played incredibly well.

"The boys do not really understand how good they are.

"To get to this stage of the competition is an incredible achievement."

Solid start in Harlow opener

HARLOW Cricket Club's first team got their pre-season campaign off to a good start with a 10-run win at Saracens Herts League division two club Broxbourne.

The visitors batted first on Saturday and lost two quick wickets.

Andrew McGarry (45) and Ahmed Khawaja (61) steadied the innings and took the score across the 100 barrier.

Useful knocks came from Surath Bastola (17), Andre Riddell (17) and skipper Luke Heskett (25) as Harlow totalled 210 all out.

Robinson took 4-30 for the hosts.

In reply, McGarry dismissed two of the top four Broxbourne batsmen before their skipper Robin Glassbrook and the hard-hitting Niall Robinson put on more than 100 runs.

Harlow looked set for a defeat but Anthony Webb then took the key wicket of Robinson for 42.

With McGarry then bowling three tight overs and Heskett and Khawaja taking three wickets between them, the game turned Harlow's way.

Glassbrook was the last man out.

He was run out by Webb for 74 as Broxbourne were bowled out for 200.

Harlow host Colchester in charity match this Saturday.

It will be raising money for leukaemia and lymphoma research.

Meanwhile, Harlow will start their Shepherd Neame Essex League division one campaign with a tough trip to Loughton on May 12.

Harlow Tn 2, Waltham Forest 3 Ryman League, division one north

ANY flickering hopes Harlow Town had of reaching the play-offs were ended by a shock home defeat at the hands of lowly Waltham Forest.

The Hawks at one stage held a two-goal lead but the Londoners fought back to 2-2 before Joel Palmer netted a winner deep into injury-time.

It was Harlow's third loss in a row and left them in 8th spot, nine points behind the last play-off spot (fifth) with just two matches left.

Hawks boss Danny Chapman made wholesale changes to the line-up following the 1-0 defeat at Ware.

Reece Dobson, who has played for Essex Senior League club Takeley this season, came on in on the left wing.

Central defender Jack Dekanski was dropped to the bench as Jack Haverson was restored to the line-up, while Donny Barnard returned at right-back.

Mark Taylor moved to right midfield while Danny Elmes was switched up front to partner Piers Wixon.

Wixon, who had been struggling with a knee injury, was making his first start in 12 games.

Forward Bertie Brayley was dropped to the bench, as was midfielder Dave Cowley.

after his red card against Enfield Town.

Wixon gave Harlow a 10th-minute lead from the penalty spot after Dobson was brought down in the box by Forest's former Harlow defender Matt Waldron.

The home lead was doubled on 29 minutes. Elmes' shot from the edge of the box was initially blocked by visitors' keeper Aaron Omand, but he stabbed in the rebound.

However, the visitors scored twice on 32 and 34 minutes to draw level. Jamie Moore fired home a free-kick before a shot from Chris Taylor was deflected off a Harlow defender into the net.

Wixon fired a shot against a Waltham Forest post midway through the second half, before the visitors' late winner.

A free-kick from substitute Brayley was cleared down the field by Waldron and Palmer went on to shoot home.

Rams miss out on promotion

East London 43, Harlow 16

RFU London, division three north east

THIS defeat proved academic as Harlow's promotion hopes were left on hold for another year.

Even if the weakened Rams side had won at East London five days ago they would not have overtaken Stowmarket to claim the runner-up spot and promotion.

As expected, Stowmarket held onto second position by beating Wymondham. Harlow finished third.

Harlow, whose absentees included skipper Shaun Roberts (family commitments) and Michael Dobson (leg injury), held their own at East London before the break until the hosts pulled away in the last quarter.

East London went ahead after three minutes when they exploited weak Rams' defence to score a converted try.

Rams fly-half Danny Smith slotted over 6th and 26th-minute penalties either side of missing an 18th minute effort.

It left the visitors trailing 7-6 and they went ahead for the only time on 27 minutes through a try by Simon Vanbeck. Smith missed the conversion.

On 34 minutes, East London hit back with a converted try to give them a 14-11 lead going into the interval.

Just before the break, Martin Mallia came on for winger Werner Kotze who had suffered a knee injury.

On 46 minutes, the hosts extended their lead when a centre exploited weak Rams' defence to score a try that was converted.

Under-fire boss hits back

HAWKS boss Danny Chapman insists he is his own man and is not dictated to by Harlow Town's co-owner Tom Cunningham.

A passionate and tactically-astute football man, former QPR and Leyton Orient defender Cunningham appears to pull the strings during matches.

Some fans and rivals from other clubs have suggested that Cunningham has too much of a stranglehold on his manager, but Chapman firmly rebutted this.

Chapman (30), who took over as first team manager 14 months ago,

By DAVID RIMMER
david.rimmer@hertsessexnews.co.uk said: "He [Cunningham] only does what I ask him to do. He has never made a decision on someone or the way we play. That is down to me."

Chapman has known Cunningham since he was an aspiring central defender with Orient and Barnet.

He also played under Cunningham at Harlow when the latter was in charge of the first team between July 2003 and November 2006.

Chapman said: "Our relationship goes deeper than owner and manager. I have known him a long time.

"He has never done wrong by me. He backs me 100 per cent."

Harlow's bid for a play-off spot has been ended by three successive defeats and the team have struggled for consistent form since before Christmas.

Only a couple of upsets in the FA Trophy have tempered what has been a disappointing season after the Hawks reached the play-off semi-finals last term.

Chapman, above, is very happy with the backing given by most of the fans and philosophical at the amount of criticism he has received on forums.

He said: "Some supporters will be happy with me, others will want to see somebody else.

"If the owners are happy with me, I will continue. I love Harlow Town."

Harlow play their last home game against Thamesmead Town this Saturday and will hope to end their losing run.

Midfielder Getro Kilapi will not return. He was knocked unconscious in a Sunday league game 11 days ago and has missed the last two games.

Harlow will also be without influential skipper Danny Brown who is out for the season with a calf injury.

He has missed the last four league games.

The Hawks can still finish 6th but this is highly unlikely. Realistically they finish eighth if they take a point from either Saturday's game or their final game at Ilford on May 5.
